You may not think of ordering a cheesesteak at a chocolate shop but the folks over at Max Brenner are making Cheesesteak Waffles not to be missed. Sure, their version (thinly-sliced sirloin steak, caramelized onions, crispy onions, and Max's signature cheese sauce) may be sandwiched between a waffle instead of bread, but that's what makes it so decadent. Diners can also sink their teeth into a Chicken Cheesesteak Waffle, which comes with thinly-sliced chicken, caramelized onions, mushrooms, roasted red peppers, and Max's signature cheese sauce. These two "sandwiches" also come with a side of cocoa spiced waffle fries and pickles so you can satisfy both your sweet and salty craving.
